a humorous book about taking common sense off life support this collection of satirical short stories and novellas follows a dry stubborn narrator we call the logical mind as it wanders through today's chaos with a raised eyebrow and a pocket notebook each piece pokes at the places where reason went missing and leaves a small marker where we might find it again politics pop culture family group chats customer kings and online experts with diplomas from the university of nowhere all make an appearance the tone is warm sharp and human the jokes land then the truth does you will laugh wince and recognize yourself in the best possible way beneath the humor sits a simple invitation let's stop pretending we are strangers let's spot the patterns we share name the stories we tell ourselves and make one quiet repair at a time the logical mind is not a scold it is a companion that taps your shoulder and asks kindly are we sure by the last page you will have met neighbors you thought you disliked found a version of yourself you forgot to root for and felt a nudge to do one practical decent thing before bed read for the wit stay for the recognition leave with a plan to be slightly braver and a lot more honest tomorrow from the 1 new york times bestselling author of small great things and the modern classics my sister's keeper the storyteller and more comes a complex compassionate and smart the washington post novel about a family torn apart by a murder accusation when your son can't look you in the eye does that mean he's guilty? Jacob Hunt is a teen with Asperger's Syndrome. He's hopeless at reading social cues or expressing himself well to others though he is brilliant in many ways. He has a special focus on one subject: forensic analysis. A police scanner in his room clues him in to crime scenes and he's always showing up and telling the cops what to do and he's usually right. But when Jacob's small hometown is rocked by a terrible murder, law enforcement comes to him. Jacob's behaviors are hallmark Asperger's but they look a lot like guilt to the local police. Suddenly the Hunt family, who only want to fit in, are thrust directly in the spotlight. For Jacob's mother, it's a brutal reminder of the intolerance and misunderstanding that always threaten her family. For his brother, it's another indication why nothing is normal because of Jacob. And for the frightened small town, the soul-searing question looms: Did Jacob commit murder? House Rules is a provocative story in which Picoult explores the pain of trying to comprehend the people we love and reminds us that the truth often travels in disguise. free-spirited cafe server Holland Mulberry tackles life as the guardian of her autistic nephew Riley. Armed with enough sunshine to offset the Minnesota winters, she commits to keeping Riley's iron-clad routine in place for his well-being. Everything is going according to plan until the new grumpy head chef starts. Type A Shane Blackwood has had a year after quitting law school, breaking up with his fiancée, and shattering his parents' dreams. He accepts a chef position at his uncle's cafe. He's now focused on only his passion for art and his obsession with color-coding garnish, proving to himself and his family that art is where he belongs. He has an aggressive one-year timeframe for opening an art gallery. There can be zero distractions, especially not the adorable server Holland.
